Beautification Committee Holds First Meeting

Following an opening address by Mayor Richard O. Clark, the newly appointed Albany Beautification Committee, on Jan. 5, elected William Garrison as chairman and Mrs. Max Klemm as secretary.

During the opening announcement, Clark told the committee that the lighting projects on Solano and San Pablo Avenues had been the impetus for the formation of this committee; that the committee was to be concerned with all phases of citywide up-keeping. He listed the requirements for application for Federal funds for such projects. Other members present then welcomed the committee.

Introduction of committee members followed and the list of project priority preferences as requested in the Nov. letter from City Administrator James Turner to City commissioners and organizations.

The committee adopted the following goal: "It shall be the purpose of the City of Albany through its Beautification Program, to, within the limits of potential feasibility, enhance all areas within public jurisdiction providing for new and for the grading and rehabilitation of streets, parks, streets, parkways, waterfronts, stream beds, and rights of way and other public places and to encourage the part of private property owners, that they also undertake programs and projects which will enhance their properties and its surrounds. Such undertakings are to be co-ordinated and remain consistent with the General Plan and for the City of Albany."

Committee approval was given to the request made by Albany Chamber of Commerce to City Council for $1,000 to match the equal amount held by the Chamber to employ an architect to study Solano Ave. project and make estimates.

Sub-committees were then formed as follows: Commercial: John Fleich, chairman, Garra, Red Call, Marty Webb and Jim Williams, members. Residential: Roy Hartford, chairman, Eldon Wolfe, Mrs. Max Klemm, Mrs. Grafton Geering, members. Parks: Charles Graeber, chairman, Tim Fine, Tiny Kempe, Jack Mahshi, members. Miscellaneous and Waterfront: Carl MacWilliams, chairman, Mrs. Dario Meniketti, Burton Lewis, members.

The next general meeting will be held at the City Hall on Jan. 17, 7:30 p.m. with reports to be submitted by the sub-committees on progress during the past three years and plans for the next three years. Projects submitted at this time will be adopted and forwarded by Turner in time to meet the January 30 deadline for Federal fund application.

Albany Inter-Club Council Will Install Officers

Albany Inter-Club Council will install officers on Saturday, Jan. 19, at Serb's Restaurant, at 7:30 a.m. Breakfast will be served. Associated club officers and members and guests are invited.

Harold Denham, past president of the Albany Rotary club, will install the officers for 1967. Rev. Williamson of the Albany Methodist Church will give the invocation.

The Soroptimist Club of Albany, headed by Althea Ippolito, the hostess club for the first installation. Each year, another member club will be in charge. Ellis Olson, past president of the Soroptimist club, is chairman of the installation, assisted by all members of the club.

Inter-Club Council was formed for the purpose of unifying the various clubs' activities, since in unity there is strength. Many worthwhile projects could be accomplished if the various groups pool some of their civic activities.

Officers for 1967 are Andrew Serb, chairman; Walter Sears, vice chairman; Irene MacWilliams, secretary; and Alden F. Thorogood, treasurer.

Member clubs are Albany Chamber of Commerce, Albany Junior Chamber of Commerce, Albany-El Cerrito Exchange club, Albany Moose lodge, American Legion Auxiliary, Albany Lions club, Albany-Berkeley Kiwanis, Albany Rotary club, Alberito club of Business and Professional Women, Soroptimist Club of Albany, Bayview Aerie 2323, FOE. There are approximately 10 other organizations in Albany that would be eligible for membership.

Richard Hillman Authors New Book on Travel

by Rosemary Paine

Richard Hillman

One way to beat the winter rain and wind is to take an armchair cruise with Richard Hillman and his four enthusiastic student musicians as they play for your pleasure on the SS President Adams in Hillman's hilarious new book "Ports and Players."

Hillman, who has been an Albany High school instructor of English and speech for the last 18 years, reached back to his first year of teaching for the background of this travel book published by Dorrance Company of Philadelphia. It is available at all local book stores.

The story begins in Panaca, Nevada, a sleepy little town where Hillman faces his first teaching assignment as music instructor to a class not much younger than he is. What could be a rout becomes a triumph as love of music binds class and teacher together. Four of his students are stand-outs; and with them, Hillman forms a summer combo plus the opportunity to circle the globe on the cruise ship playing for the passengers.

Chief charm of the book is not the ports of call, although they are colorfully displayed, but the four boys. Each port is seen through the eyes of each boy. Marconi and his music are not to be separated. He senses the beat, the rhythms and the music along the foreign route. John has his eye on the girls, Joseph, with his strict religious background, considers each scene thoughtfully. On viewing some of the ancient frescoes at Pompeii, he says: "No wonder the Lord caused Vesuvius to erupt." Brigham is the historian of the group; reading from the guidebook, writing in his notebook. Of the Cathedral in Naples he says, "They've been worshipping here since 1224, and there are 327 churches besides this cathedral in Naples." "How did you know that?" asks Joseph. "I read while you wrote to the Bishop," replies Brigham.

The music the group plays reflects the mood of the moment. During a storm when only Hillman is left physically intact, but shaky, and the audience has dwindled to eight, he swings into "I Wish I Were In Peoria."

Each adventure seems funnier than the last, as the five young men explore the world in every sense of the term. A nice innovation of presentation in the book are the chapters, headed by ports (Port VI. Hong Kong, China).

Interviewing Richard Hillman is not easy. He admits to recording for Capitol Records, composing published popular music, and appearing as guest artist at well known restaurant-clubs such as Gallatin's in Monterey, Los Laureles Lodge in Carmel Valley and presently at the Sea Shell in Richmond. But he would rather talk about his current speech students and their "wins" in statewide public speaking contests. His dedication to teaching has grown and deepened since the year portrayed in "Ports and Players" and it still retains priority in his busy daily routine.

Albany Mourns Death Of Joe Egenberger

City Officials Shocked and Grieved

Mayor Richard O. Clark: As a personal friend, citizen, and fellow City Councilman's of Joe, I wish to express my deepest sympathy to his wife, children and family for this most immediate and personal loss. This sympathy is also extended to the City of Albany for loss of one of its truly great City Councilmen. His quick and concise intelligence led to the formation of many excellent and decisive policies for this City. His wit and eloquence and down-to-earth thinking are qualities which we will never be able to replace. I feel that the 17,500 good people of Albany will long benefit by Joe's life.

Councilman Lewis Howell: Councilman Joseph Egenberger's sudden death has left me shocked and grieved. This is a great loss to me and to the community. He was one to reason out all things that were for the good of the city. His death will also be a loss to organized labor, Joe was actively interested in good government, education, and social progress. He will be sorely missed.

Councilman Joseph Carlevaro: The council seat to my left is now vacant. But the memory of Joe Egenberger will forever linger on. Joe was a dedicated leader of our great city. I know upmost in his mind, shown in his actions and decisions, was devotion to the citizens of the City of Albany.

To his wife and family: May God be with you in the days ahead.

Councilman George Hein: I am terribly grieved over the death of Vice Mayor Joseph Egenberger. He always had the best interests of the Albany citizens at heart. He was a man of strong convictions and great integrity. I shall certainly miss sitting on the council with him.

Ralph M. Jensen, Chief of Police: It was with a great deal of sorrow that we learned of the death of Councilman Joe Egenberger. Joe had not only the interest of the city at heart, but also the welfare of the city employees. His passing deprives the city of a fine, dedicated councilman and a fine American.

Fire Chief Gerald Browne: Councilman Joe Egenberger, passing presents a severe loss to Albany City Government. His splendid cooperation with the Fire Service has been outstanding with energy, thoughtfulness and fairness. He gave unstintingly of his time, knowledge, effort and especially his spirit that brought him warm acquaintances and friends. The entire personnel of the Fire Department will long mourn the Councilman who has helped make their city a better place in which to work.

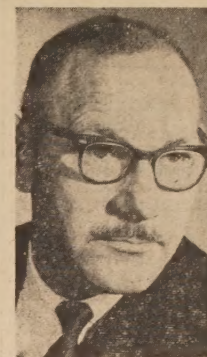

Albany Hi-12 Opens New Year

The new year of Albany High 12 club, with new officers, gets underway Friday, Jan. 13, at 12 noon in Kirby's Banquet Room, El Cerrito Plaza.

Holland will introduce Jack Lee, a retiree of the Standard Oil Co. of California, Richmond refinery. Lee will use as his subject, "The Golden Gate International Exposition of 1938-1939." He will have pictures to illustrate his discourse. He was the photographer who won top honors for the historical pictures he made during the San Francisco World Fair.

Civic, Community Activities Enriched the City

Joseph A. Egenberger

Vice-mayor Joseph A. Egenberger was elected to the Albany City Council in 1962. He was elected by the Council to serve as mayor during his second year on the Council. During his first years on the Council he was commissioner to the Fire Department and the Recreation Department. As mayor he served on the finance committee.

He was re-elected to the Council for a four year term in 1964. He was at present serving as chairman of the finance committee.

Born in Oakland, March 14, 1920, he attended Oakland Public schools and graduated from University High school in 1938. He was a veteran of World War II. Serving in the United States Navy for six years, he worked his way through the ranks to come out as Chief Pharmacist's Mate, receiving the Presidential Unit Citation.

In 1942 he married an Albany girl, Lorraine Graeber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graeber. After his discharge from the Navy, Joe and Lorraine settled down in Albany to raise their family; Joseph, Jr., now 22 and a student at San Francisco State; Laurel, 18, a student at Merritt College; Holly, 12, and Robin, 4.

Flags Fly at Half Mast for Egenberger

The American Flag is flying half mast over the City of Albany as the City mourns the sudden death of Vice Mayor Joseph A. Egenberger.

A sudden coronary struck the vice mayor at dawn on Monday morning. "It is believed death was instantaneous, although the Albany Fire Department was called, and he was rushed to Herrick Hospital."

He is survived by his wife, Lorraine; four children, Joseph, Jr., Laurel, Holly, and Robin; his mother, Mrs. Wanda Egenberger, and his sister, Miss Leona Egenberger, both of Oakland.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning, Jan. 12, at 11 a.m. at the Ellis-Olson Mortuary, 727 San Pablo Ave. The committal will be private.

Council Announces Week of Mourning For Egenberger

Mayor Richard O. Clark opened the regular Monday night City Council meeting with the announcement that the City of Albany would be in mourning until sundown next Monday for Vice Mayor Joseph Egenberger.

"The flags will fly at half-mast," he announced quietly, "and the lights at the City Hall will remain burning. The building will be open, as you see it now." He went on to state that in lieu of the open house scheduled, a Memorial Service will be held Sunday, January 15, from 1 to 4 p.m.

After expressing "great and deep sorrow" for the Egenberger family on the behalf of every member of the Council, Mayor Clark called for a half of a minute of standing silence in memory of the absent member.

The meeting then adjourned.

Thousand Oaks School PTA Plans 'Hawaiian Paradise'

Ambitions plans are underway for the "Hawaiian Paradise" program to be held at Thousand Oaks School auditorium Jan. 18, at 7:30 p.m. This promises to be an evening of fund and entertainment for the entire family.

The dances will not only feature the native instruments of these countries, but the performers will wear colorful native costumes. Mrs. Harry Bier will be mistress of ceremonies and Mrs. Eleanor Edson Weigand will direct under the sponsorship of the Thousand Oaks PTA.

Tickets are available at Thousand Oaks school from the sixth grade students, as well as at the Dance Studio of Eleanor Edson. Market Opening Gratifying Says New Owner Response to the Grand Opening of the Super Stop Market in Albany under new management was extremely gratifying, according to Clifton Axt, present owner-manager. John A. Medeiros, manager of the meat department voiced the same enthusiastic response.

"New customers, as well as regular shoppers, became aware of the fact that Super Stop gives dollar-for-dollar value on every item in our store," Axt stated. "Appreciation of our personalized service, where 'You Are King,' was expressed by many."

"We will be providing an additional service shortly to help combat inflationary grocery items," Axt continued. "Food prices from wholesalers fluctuate from week to week in both the grocery and meat department. We will notify the public, through the Albany Times, when prices drop in meat, produce and grocery shipments, and pass these savings on to consumers."

Geering Memorial Fund Set Up by AFS Chapter

The AFS, or "Americans Abroad Program" coordinates the annual exchange of thousands of American and foreign high school students. This year's AFS student, Pedro Diaz from Madrid, Spain, is a senior at Albany High school.

Last Thursday evening, the local adult chapter of the American Field Service met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Grosz. At the meeting plans were made regarding the establishment of an "AFS Memorial Fund" in the memory of the late Grafton R. Geering.

For many years Grafton and his wife, Kay, enthusiastically supported and provided invaluable service to the Albany AFS chapter and its numerous fund-raising activities. Recently, Mr. and Mrs. Geering served as co-chairmen of the selections committee which interviewed, selected, and recommended AHS students Susan King and Sally Klemm as Americans Abroad candidates for the 1967-68 school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Geering's daughter, Martha, was an overseas AFS student to Indonesia in 1961. Martha's husband, Don Klose, was the second Americans Abroad student from this community.

Friends of Grafton Geering, as well as citizens who support the ideals of international student exchange, may make contributions to the "Grafton Geering—AFS Memorial Fund." Donations may be sent to Albany High school, 603 Key Route Boulevard, which is temporarily serving as a collection facility.

Why your PG&E bill went up when the temperature went down:

Winter's cold and rain means you're spending more time indoors.

You're using more heat and cooking more hot meals.

You need more lighting.

And you enjoy more TV and radio.

So naturally, your PG&E bill went up. When outside temperature goes back up, your bill will go back down again.

Albany Adult Education Courses

Interior Decorating

A practical and interesting approach into the realms of interior decorating and house design will be presented this quarter by Mrs. Kina Mitchell. Her class, open to the enrollment of those living in or out of Albany, is scheduled for Thursday afternoons, 1 to 4, starting Jan. 5, at the Solano Adult Unit (corner of Solano and Cornell Avenues).

Mrs. Mitchell will cover the dynamics of color and its use in the student's own individual projects. Notebooks will be kept, and individual attention will be given to landscaping, design, and function and remodeling of architectural errors. Personalized projects will be created, using papier mache. A field trip to a home of unusual charm will be included. Emphasizing budget decoration schemes and the proper use of scale, the course will enable homemakers and students to plan and execute their own designs.

Music for Listeners

This quarter a course in what to listen for in music will be taught by John Overholzer, who will furnish tapes and records of various types of music for the course under the Albany Adult Education program. The course, open to all adults regardless of residence, is scheduled for Tuesday evenings, 7 to 10, at 603 Key Route Boulevard, starting Jan. 5. In addition, the relation of the composer to his times will be studied by means of lectures and guided listening to selected symphonic compositions from New Orleans to cool, and blues from the work song to the present.

The course will emphasize the important instrumental stylings, vocalists, arrangers, and orchestral units which have contributed to the half century of jazz as well as covering both classical and romantic styles up to the contemporary works of Schoenberg, Stravinsky and Hindemith. Consideration will be given also to the selection of adequate stereophonic listening equipment.

Jewelry and Sculpture

A course in jewelry making and small sculpture casting, offered on Wednesday evenings, 7 to 10, at the Albany Adult School, 603 Key Route Boulevard, will provide diverse opportunities to make attractive, personalized conversation pieces at very nominal prices. Materials may be purchased through the school or through the open market. The course starts Wednesday, Jan. 4, and is open to the enrollment of all adults regardless of residence.

The course will include "Lost Wax" bronze casting, a process dating back more than 2,500 years and still used in casting bronze statuary. The instructor, Stephen T. Seable, who has a wide background and considerable teaching experience in the area, has simplified the traditional method and has greatly reduced the material costs and time.

In addition to bronze casting, Mr. Seable will include both silver and soft soldering for those interested, as well as the making of pins, cuff links, earrings, bowties, and ash trays through the enameling on copper process.

Electronic Course

Basic electronics for beginning and non-beginning students will meet on Tuesday evenings, 7 to 10, at the Albany Adult School, 603 Key Route Boulevard, starting Jan. 5.

This course will include atomic structure as it pertains to electronics, resistance, inductance, capacitance, direct current theory, alternating current theory, resonance, basic power supplies and amplifiers.

William Moon, the instructor, is a veteran of 20 years' experience in the electronic field with the U.S. Navy and is currently instructing in the Advanced Radarman School at Treasure Island.

No previous training is necessary for enrollment in this class.

Foreign Languages

Courses in French, Italian, German and Spanish, with emphasis on conversation, are included in the winter quarter of the Albany Adult School. Adults residing in or out of Albany may enroll in these evening classes, all held in the evenings in the Albany High School building, 603 Key Route Boulevard.

French classes include instruction for beginners on Mondays; intermediates and advanced on Thursdays. They will be held 7 to 10, with Madame P. Julien-Thompson as the teacher. This quarter, for the first time, a basic French workshop is scheduled for Friday afternoons, 4 to 5:30, in Room 9 of MacGregor School.

Italian for both beginners and intermediates will be taught on the same evening, Thursday, 7 to 10, by Mrs. Gianna Langenberg. At the first meeting, it will be decided how the group will be divided. There will be scheduled time for beginners alone; some, for those who have studied Italian; and some, for a combination of the two groups.

Semi-intermediate German students will meet on Mondays, and intermediates on Thursdays, with R. Bermann as the instructor.

These classes are scheduled from 7 to 9.

There are four classes in Spanish scheduled: beginners, Wednesdays; semi-intermediates, Thursdays; intermediates, Tuesdays; and advanced, Mondays. All of these are scheduled 7 to 10, with David Bryar instructing.

Upholstery Class

One day and two evening upholstery classes will be offered, all taught by Joseph Martinez. This quarter the regular classes begin Tuesday, Jan. 3, for those who have taken the basic training. Only those who have completed the 12 hours basic training are eligible to enroll in the regular upholstery course. The training has been scheduled from 7 to 10 p.m. Mondays, Jan. 9, 16, and 23; Wednesdays, Jan. 11 and 18. Those enrolled must attend 12 of the 15 scheduled hours before they work on their own furniture. No sofas, chesterfields, love seats or sections of a sectional chesterfield can be worked on any time other than the summer session.

Auto Driving Class

A new class in driver training education and training opened Jan. 3 at the Albany Adult School at 603 Key Route Boulevard.

As in past years, high school students attending a school which does not offer driver training, who are 15½ years of age or over, living in or out of Albany, may register in the Albany adult driving course. This is of particular interest to students attending private or parochial schools.

Before any behind-the-wheel training will be offered in the dual-control cars, a series of 12 classroom meetings of three hours each will be given. Each student must attend 30 hours of classroom work during the course. No exceptions to this requirement will be made. The classroom instruction is scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 10.

Driver training, or behind-the-wheel driving will start after completion of the classroom work, and each student will drive 30 minutes twice a week, plus the observation time in the car while other students are driving. These classes are scheduled for week-day afternoons, starting at 3:25; and evenings, starting at 6:45 and 8:45. As far as practical, students will be assigned to afternoon or evening classes of their choice.

Real Estate

A beginning class in Real Estate will again be available at the Albany Adult School, 603 Key Route Boulevard. It will be taught by Frank Ellsworth, a practicing real estate agent who also teaches at Armstrong College. Designed as an aid for those persons interested in preparing for the State license examination, the course is also popular with those who wish to increase their general knowledge of real estate for personal reasons. The class will meet two evenings a week, Mondays and Wednesdays, 7:30 to 9:30.

This course, open to those residing in or out of Albany, is an introduction to the basic principles of real estate practice and will cover such pertinent topics as: sales, lease and exchange agreements; mortgages; the effects of judgments; escrow processing; and instruction in the use of the listing agreement.

Painters Joint Committee Opens Office on Solano

The Painters and Decorators Joint Committee of the East Bay Counties, Inc., has leased a new office at 1701 Solano Avenue, Berkeley, into which they will move early in January from their present quarters at 1112 Solano Avenue, where they have been located for eight years.

This joint committee fulfills a unique and unusual position in the painting industry. It was formed for the purpose of assisting in the administration of labor agreements between painting and decorating contractors, and the journeymen painters, decorators, paperhangers, sandblasters and shuckers. In addition, the committee promotes the welfare of the industry, its employees and employers, and assists in projects connected with betterment of conditions, and with enforcement of labor contracts.

Mrs. Lee Drohan, administrator of the Joint Committee, stated that the larger quarters were necessary because six new counties have been added to the jurisdiction of the committee, which will now include the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Napa, Solano, Marin, Sacramento, Yolo, El Dorado, Placer, Nevada and Sierra. Members of the Board of Directors of the Joint Committee consist of elected delegates from District Council of Painters 16, representing labor and equal representation from affiliated chapters of the Painting Contractors Association. Leasing agent for the Joint Committee was Jerome Blank, Albany Realtor, who conducted negotiations for the original office eight years ago and who also handled the leasing of the new office.

LARUKA CIRCLE

Degree of Pocahontas, Laruka Council 46, will hold the next business meeting Thursday, Jan. 12, at 8:15 p.m. at the Foothill Blvd. Women's Club, 2535 Mason Street, Oakland. The calendar for the coming year will be under discussion by the members. Refreshments will be served.

ON PATROL

Electronics Technician First Class Glen Edward Heath, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Y. Heath of 602 Santa Fe Ave., Albany, is on patrol in the Far East, as a crewman aboard the nuclear-powered fast attack submarine USS Sculpin, home ported in San Diego, Calif.

SENIOR CITIZENS

by Emma Claymore

One of the largest gatherings of members at a business meeting was present Tuesday, Jan. 3. After the Pledge of Allegiance, chaplains prayer and reports from outgoing officers, Minnie Ingraham, outgoing president, gave a short talk praising all those who had worked with her during the past year.

Beulah Belling, director, also gave a short talk and reminded members of things which would have to be considered in the coming year: the rapidly expanding membership and different projects which might be considered.

The handsome young Mayor of Albany, Richard Clark, then appeared and proceeded to install the new officers. A beautiful satin corsage, made by our own Maria Olivera, was presented to each officer after the Mayor had outlined each officer's duties and sworn them in. Those installed were: Bess Carbis, president; Ethel Macquart, vice president in absentia; Ruth Baird, secretary; Joy Tucker, treasurer; Margaret Longpre, chaplain; Cecelia Chilton, hostess; Gertrude Gaden and Maria Olivera, members at large.

Minnie Ingraham presented gifts to the officers who served with her during the past year and corsages to Emma Claymore, publicity chairman, and Helene Connolly, pianist. Elmer Boucheit was given a boutonniere for outstanding work in many fields. Minnie herself was then given a monetary gift from the club, which has always been customary for outgoing presidents.

Mayor Clark spoke of the ambitions of the City Council to beautify and improve the City of Albany. One project of special interest to the Seniors was a park to be created directly across from the Senior Center.

Coffee and cake was served to all. Four visitors, friends of Bess Carbis and husband, were present: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Buell of Richmond, Catherine Hammer and Low Doyle of Albany.

On Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 31, a catered luncheon and a movie will be held at the Center. Get your reservations now. Saturday, Feb. 25, a trip called Orient Odyssey will be taken to San Francisco with lunch at the Cathay House and a chance to see the Chinese New Year's parade.

Letters

Editor, the Times:

You did a good job in reporting the death of the couple who died within 12 hours of each other.

They were to have come to see us about 8, but the son-in-law came at about 6:15 to report that Mr. Peterson had a stroke.

I went to the same high school as they did, but graduated a different year.

At one time, they lived only a block from us in Duluth.

In 1921, I was one of the attendants at their wedding.

We stayed at their home in El Cerrito on arrival here in 1950. It had intended to be a visit out here only, but the lone eye loosened again so it was necessary to remain for my 5th major eye operation. Since then my long distance traveling has been eliminated.

May you add another year to your good reporting.

Editor, the Times:

In this new year, we the senior citizens of Albany, in the midst of wishing all and sundry a Happy New Year, feel that we would be very remiss in our duty if we did not wish you a Happy and Prosperous New Year. We also wish to thank you for the wonderful coverage you have given the events and activities of our Center and wish to assure you that we do appreciate it.

Thank you again.

Commissioned

Jesse O. Ochoa, 24, son of Mrs. Carmen O. Ochoa, 1038 Peralta, Albany, was commissioned an Army second lieutenant on completion of the Quartermaster Officer Candidate School at Ft. Lee, Va., Dec. 15.

During his 23 weeks of training, the lieutenant received basic officer instruction and quartermaster training in food service, supply maintenance management and leadership.

Lt. Ochoa, whose wife, Pamela, lives at 22 Domingo, Berkeley, was graduated from El Cerrito High school in 1960 and received his A.B. degree in 1964 from the University of California.
